Message from The Principal

Our favourite band, Sound Cheque represented Nexus recently at a gala dinner event with one of our recruitment agents. They were superb and with true Nexus generosity the band asked the agents to make a donation to our Myanmar learners fund. Thanks to Irene, Jax, Jina and Marie.

STEAM week was a great success as our learners throughout the school celebrated learning through exciting activities and events such as Science experiments and explosions and even a competition to recite the mathematical concept Pi to many decimal places. Next week we will report the winner of the competition in this newsletter.

About 30 parents joined us this week to listen to feedback about the suicide intervention and awareness training that many of our teachers have now completed a simplified course that helps them to feel confident to listen and help someone who is feeling suicidal, safe for now. Here is the link to that training: <https://www.zerosuicidealliance.com/suicide-awareness-training>

Primary

STEAM WEEK!

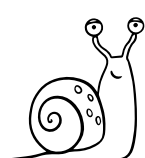

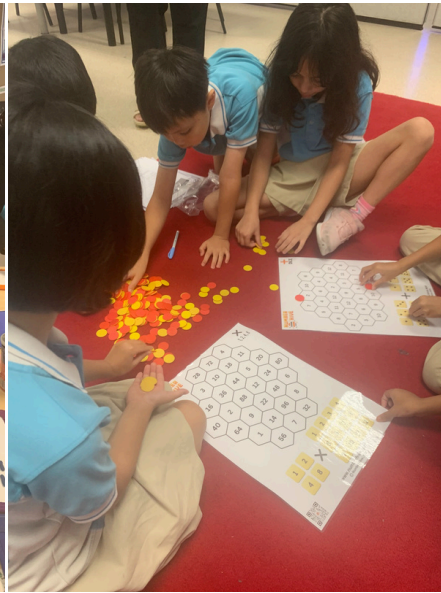

This week, Primary was buzzing with curiosity and creativity as we celebrated STEAM Week! From hands-on experiments to exciting challenges, learners explored the wonders of STEAM in fun and engaging ways.

We also had a fantastic Pi Maths Day, where learners discovered the magic of maths through interactive maths activities and puzzles. It was a week full of learning, problem-solving, and inspiration.

A huge thank you to all our staff and learners for making these events a success!

Secondary

This week learners have been getting involved in all STEAM, ranging from Chemistry demonstrations, rocket launches, lecture tessellations and all things Pi on the annual event on 14th March. There have been lot so loud bangs around the demonstration area on the first floor! Some of our IB learners have also had the experience of leading activities in the primary classes and early years, acting as excellent role models for our younger learners.

Our IB Year 12 Chinese A and B students had the opportunity to engage with Nexus alumni from the Classes of 2022, 2023, and 2024. The session aimed to provide insights into the IB Diploma Programme, university life, and the challenges of studying Chinese at an advanced level.

Alumni Jeffery Zheng (2022), Thanyarin (2023), and Eric Zhou (2024) shared valuable strategies for excelling in IB Chinese and offered advice on university applications. Students engaged in small group discussions, gaining first-hand knowledge from their experiences.

To create a more immersive cultural experience, students enjoyed traditional Chinese tea, and the session concluded with a beautiful erhu performance by Amy Xu.

This exchange was an excellent opportunity for students to build confidence in their language skills and connect with alumni for guidance and inspiration. We thank our former students for their time and wish them success in their future endeavors!

Secondary

Congratulations to our chess team of Tze, Zhe Yi, Aiden, Bill & Wallace who came 12th out of 62 teams in the recent Fobisia chess competition. Competition was fierce and it was an excellent result for the team to finish in the top 20%. Congratulations!

STEAM cooking

STEAM week events in school prompted us to get some STEAM cooking on the go in Boarding this week. We love that Boarding activities are extra educational opportunities and our afternoons become fun learning time. This week we tried making our own soup stock which we topped with chicken and ginger, noodles or STEAMED dumplings. Cooking is one of the essential skills all Boarders learn in Nexus Boarding - what would you make?
